Pelli

Life in Architecture

Michael J. Crosbie

This superbly produced new monograph celebrates the creative accomplishments of one of the world's most influential architects, Cesar Pelli. The book surveys this extraordinary body of work in terms of the AIA's Gold Medalist's design, architecture, and planning, tracing Pelli's motivation as a leading designer and teacher, and the evolution of his work over the span of half a century. More than 50 projects from around the globe—museums, theaters, offices, laboratories, airports, cultural centers, civic works, master plans—are presented in rich full color with insights from Pelli that delve into the design and construction of these landmarks from a practice that has thrived for many decades. There are also only 100 Limited Edition copies available, each signed by Cesar Pelli.

Centerbrook 4

Edited by John Morris Dixon, FAIA

The book's title, Centerbrook 4, represents their fourth book on architecture, four decades of practice, and the four current partners—Jeff Riley, Chad Floyd, Mark Simon, Jim Childress—who are each recognized as AIA Fellows in design. This volume also showcases a range of projects currently in development by the firm's next generation of designers. In typical fashion, the firm's sophisticated style and exercise in clarity, the in-depth texts, and richly illustrated images communicate an indomitable focus on the architectural context of their ideas that are accessible to all. The book provides critical, concise, and insightful descriptions of where the design ideas germinate.

Shigeru Ban Architects

Shigeru Ban Architects

This monograph delves into the output of one of the world's most prolific international design and architecture practitioners, Tokyo-based Shigeru Ban. This volume surveys an enormous collection of works, from commercial and residential innovation strategies to humanitarian works, such as emergency shelters made from paper and modular shelters for earthquake victims. Shigeru Ban's visionary residential design philosophies encompass timber hybrid structures, including a building constructed from cardboard tubes; the tallest hybrid timber structure in the world for a residential tower in Vancouver; as well as the new home designed for the Aspen Art Museum, which features woven wooden cladding. His innovation extends to the industrial design of an architect's scale pen used for drawing.

Multifamily Housing Creating a Community

Foreword by Avi Friedman

This book reveals in brilliant photographic detail how highly innovative architects from around the world deal with inserting a beautifully designed structure into the dense urban fabric of a community—consolidating the social, economic, environmental and political complexities—for the largest city through to the small-scale environment. From boutique apartment blocks that embrace a modern, contemporary urban aesthetic to grand complexes dripping in luxury, or inventive builds catering to a mix of professionals and unique identities to the complex blending of the social and psychological needs of a community into a harmonious whole—this volume also showcases the strong emphasis placed on individual expression, identity, and communal sustainability in multifamily housing.

Storied Interiors

The Designs of Patrick Sutton and the Stories That Shaped Them

Patrick Sutton

Storied Interiors offers glamorous presentations of 10 residences and four hotels and restaurants, including the award-winning Sagamore Pendry Hotel in Baltimore, but so much more. Each project is accompanied by the designer's narrative of a family, a historic estate, a restaurant. In addition, he details the eight design principles, from proportion and balance to the effect of different ceiling treatments, through which he translates this narrative, or story, into a complete, evocative interior.

The first comprehensive monograph on interior designer Patrick Sutton showcases superbly photographed works that draw upon his memories of a childhood spent visiting the world's most beautiful spaces

On Interior Design

Penny Drue Baird

Contemporary Japanese Houses

Edited by Zhao Xiang

The pages within this impressive compendium showcase more than 40 detached Japanese residential projects constructed over the last three years. Each work is presented with insightful analysis, complete with the architect's unique thoughts on how they've applied their unique design sensibilities to the contemporary Japanese house style. Some houses are designed around the concept of "intermediate space" featuring courtyards, landscapes, and tearooms; others focus on the environment as the key design theme, employing green building techniques and external insulation; while others are inspired by the question of "how to implement one's lifestyle," focusing on urban housing, family reconstitution, and variability.

Krueck + Sexton From There to Here

Introduction by John Morris Dixon

Krueck + Sexton Architects has made its mark with designs that draw from classic modernism as well as from current architectural discourse. Steeped in the pure modernism of Mies van der Rohe, from this foundation, they developed a distinctive visual language—influenced by art as much as by architecture—evidenced in their impeccably designed and constructed buildings. This oversize volume covers the full 40 years of the firm's work and includes 22 projects, from the seminal Steel and Glass House to the enormously popular Crown Fountain in Chicago's Millennium Park to a 375,000-square-foot federal office building in Florida.

Thomas Roszak Purpose + Process

Thomas Roszak

Lifelong Chicagoan Thomas Roszak is a rarity in the world of design: the architect-developer-contractor. With control over the entire process of making a building—aesthetics to investment, form to financials—Roszak produces works of master strokes that result in bold sculptural forms, striking glass façades, space-maximizing apartments, and a suite of amenities that exceeds the norm. These pages show focused explorations in technology, sustainability, materials, and construction. The success of his comprehensive vision is born out equally in architectural acclaim and apartment sales. Practical and personable, the text and building descriptions offer a wide-ranging, behind-the-scenes look into the architectural profession.

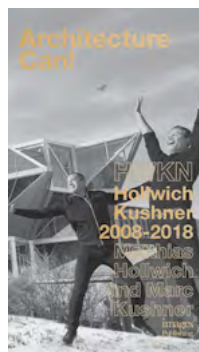

A definitive account of the work by architect-developer-contractor Thomas Roszak, known for sculptural and technologically advanced residential works

British + Irish Modern

New Houses and Old Houses Made New

Edited by Hannah Jenkins

British + Irish Modern reveals a rich variety of works that showcase how architecture in Britain and Ireland today has much to teach the world about creative, high-caliber design, innovative application of materials, and cautious but clever reliance on resources. Today's best-known and emerging architects interpret their briefs with imaginative flair: they are transforming houses for the next generation of families by blending their renewed vigor for a local aesthetic with new materials and trends. Shown in stunning, full-color photographic detail are hundreds of pages of new and renovated houses, cottages, and even converted barns nestled in misty rural valleys, including new and retrofitted modern inner-city terraces, and townhouses that make the best use of available space.

An American Renaissance Beaux-Arts Architecture in New York City

Phillip James Dodd; Photography by Jonathan Wallen

Beautifully photographed, with insightful analysis in terms of both traditional and contemporary contexts, this book celebrates the intriguing and fascinating history of the city's architecture during the Gilded Age. Spanning from the 1880s to the 1930s, this period is also fittingly referred to as the American Renaissance. During this period the architecture was rich in grandeur, full of historical reference, and dripping in embellishment—enter the Beaux-Arts style. This book expertly examines and reflects upon what is commonly associated with an era of unparalleled growth, prosperity, and cultural change, considered to be the main catalyst for the creation of the modern metropolis that we now recognize as New York City.
