This monograph showcases the trajectory of an empire built by the sheer dint of its driving success. Archgroup has gained international recognition as a comprehensive service provider in the architectural segment, with special focus being on its prolific and vital role dominating the skyline of the UAE's world-class destination, Dubai. The firm's work has now become synonymous with epithets such as 'tallest', 'highest' and 'longest' across the Gulf region.

Inside, the richly illustrated pages chronicle close to 100 projects by Archgroup, both built and in progress. Each work provides insight into the values, design-thinking and process-orientated approach that is the firm's signature, making this volume a valuable resource that goes beyond the study of the built form to talk about the firm's inimitable ethos that guides its design candour.

Archgroup International Consultants is a well-established multi-disciplinary consulting firm with its parent firm based in Dubai, and now with offices in India. Headed by Ashok Korgaonkar, the firm has grown over the years into a close-knit, efficiently managed team of professionals. The core team, comprising highly motivated and experienced architects and engineers, has been working with Ashok for almost two decades. The firm's areas of proficiency cover the core disciplines of design and construction like architecture, master planning, structural design, electro-mechanical design, project management, cost consultancy and supervision. All the disciplines work together in close coordination, in an interactive environment, sharing common objectives, resulting in successful projects. Over the years, Archgroup International Consultants has completed many notable, award-winning and landmark projects in several sectors, such as hospitality, residential, commercial and retail buildings and master planned communities. It has successfully completed many prestigious world-class projects in the UAE and overseas in countries such as India, Egypt, Libya, Oman, Mauritius and Iraq.
