- Container architecture is fresh on the market, full of artistic sense, and liked by the public
- This book includes many innovative descriptions and colour images of converted containers
- An excellent reference for container-centric designers, and those aspiring to enter the field

Container architecture is one of the most sustainable building types in the modern day world. It is already widely used in many countries. Architects and artists incorporate containers' unique aesthetic value to house various functions, such as stores, exhibitions, museums, and houses. In recent years, designers in China have begun to pay close attention to this construction field, and more and more creative container houses are being built in big cities. This book contains many excellent cases, showing readers the unique charm of modern container architecture.
