This beautifully illustrated monograph showcases gorgeous examples of landscape architectural design—terrain + open space—by award-winning studio TROP. Established in 2007, TROP has worked on various projects throughout Asia, including Thailand, Singapore, and China.

Led by Pok Kobkongsanti, its philosophy is to create a unique design for each project that TROP works on. TROP believes that the design process is as important as the design itself, and strives to work very closely with each of its clients. TROP works include hospitality, residential, and commercial.

Packed with insights into the challenges and thought behind the creation of harmonious compositions, the narrative also provides a space for reflection by the studio on its many award-winning designs. TROP's thoughtful designs succeed in creating a balance between nature, taking into consideration rainwater runoff in tropical areas, and the need to preserve greenery in large cities for the wildlife and beneficial cooling for city residents, resulting in true sustainable design.

TROP is a landscape architectural design studio with a team of designers and construction supervisors. Established in 2007, TROP has worked on various projects throughout Asia, including Thailand, Singapore, and China. TROP works include hospitality, residential, and commercialPok Kobkongsanti heads up a team of designers and construction supervisors that coalesce to form TROP. A Harvard Graduate School of Design student, Pok has an affinity for natural materials, favoring stone, wood, water, light, and sound. This fondness is evident in the firm's projects, ranging from resorts and residential communities, to sculptures and sustainable projects. With 20 years of experience, Pok Kobkongsanti was recently ranked as one of the Top 10 Landscape Architects in the World by the Landscape Architects network. He is also a recipient of 40 under 40 Awards for International Designers by Perspective Magazine, Hong Kong, China.
