- Featuring one of the most famous architects in China, globally renowned Yung Ho Chang, of Atelier FCJZ, who is known for his pioneering spirit and unconventional vision, this book forms the very first English edition featuring his collection of projects
- With 44 projects, this monograph provides an exploration of Chang's ideas about spatial design in architecture, and the aesthetics of product, furniture, jewelry, and even apparel design
- Lavishly illustrated, this handsome volume forms a wonderful collection of the work of Yung Ho Chang

Yung Ho Chang of Atelier FCJZ studied in both China and the USA, and received a Master of Architecture from the University of California at Berkeley in 1984. He has been practicing as Feichang Jianzhu (Atelier FCJZ) with Lijia Lu in China since 1992. Atelier FCJZ's work ranges from architecture, urbanism, landscape, and interiors, to furniture, kitchenware, clothing, jewelry, stage and costume, exhibition, and art installation. Chang has taught at various architecture schools in the USA and China; he is presently a professor at Tongji University, Peking University, and MIT in the US, where he also served as the head of the Architecture Department from 2005 to 2010. Chang was also a Pritzker Prize Jury member from 2011 to 2017.
